The Challenge

Patients in Barguna had to come in person or call to get a doctor's serial, ask test prices, collect reports and buy medicine. The centre needed one system to manage tests, doctors, reports and pharmacy orders, and to give patients these services online.

Our Solution

We built a Diagnostic Center Management System with a public Bangla website and patient/staff login. Patients see every test price, book tests and health packages, request home sample collection, take a doctor's serial, view and print reports with their patient ID, and order prescribed medicine online straight from the prescription.

The Result

The system is live at UDCC, Barguna. Its catalogue holds 156+ types of tests in 8 departments, 94+ doctors, health packages with discounts and an online pharmacy with order tracking, so patients can do most things from home.
